Frequently Asked Questions

01

Does Cullen Foundation fund multi-year grants?

Yes, grant requests may be made for one, two, or three years of funding. However, multi-year requests are only approved when the Foundation believes that the nature of the request is essential to the project's success.

02

What is the maximum amount that can be requested per year?

The maximum amount that can be requested is $100,000 per year. Awards for this amount are rare and only approved if the Foundation feels that there is a strategic alignment between our mission and your program's outcomes.

03

Who decides if a grant will be made?

The Board of Trustees reviews all qualifying applications and determines if they may be funded.
